

A series of Zoom courses designed to encourage, celebrate and nourish the spiritual life of older adults to learn, grow and share together through on-line short-term interactive communities led by expert facilitators.

Reconnecting with Mother Nature

Do you feel a close relationship or maybe even an emotional attachment to your natural surroundings? Explore your past nature experiences and create new ones that invite a deepening relationship with Mother God. During these four sessions, we will develop our connectedness with the natural world and with one another.

Day/Time

6:30pm ET, Tuesdays, Sept. 12, Sept 19, Sept. 26, and Oct. 3 (4 sessions)

Course Facilitators: Greg and Natalie Wittmann

Before Greg started his business as a Neighborhood Naturalist, consulting on backyard habitat sustainability, he was an elementary teacher and a Naturalist at Metro Parks. He currently serves on the conference UCC Creation Care Network promoting climate justice and offering nature education. Greg spends his time fishing, woodworking, making pottery, and tending his organic garden.

Natalie has her own executive and life coaching business which she enjoys doing part-time after retiring as Director of Education and Leadership Development at OSU Medical Center. She and Greg have two grown sons and two grandchildren who they enjoy visiting in California. Natalie loves to watercolor, pick the flowers her husband grows, read poetry, bake chocolate cake, and walk. She learned her love of nature from Greg who regularly quizzes her on the names of trees (including the Latin name for tulip poplar).
